BIG IDEAS!

What a fascinating project Tealing's primary school children have been working on recently. They've been thinking about what it's like to live here and coming up with their ideas to make it even better. And there's no shortage of ambition! Suggestions include building a big sports stadium, having more places to play and walk safely, a medical centre, car-charging park and lots more greenery.

There's more information on the back page including photos of the colourful models the children made to bring their ideas to life – do we see a swimming pool in there perhaps? Let's hope the decision makers are listening – there's no harm in thinking big!

EVENTFUL SUMMER

The summer barbecue at the hall on Sat 16 Aug went with a swing! The weather was kind, the cooks lost count at around 150 filled rolls, the bar was busy and the live music had everyone smiling and tapping their feet. It was grand to see folk catching up with neighbours and old friends. Another triumph for the wonderful Tealing Events Group volunteers and friends. We wonder what they'll think of next – watch this space!

A90 ROAD SAFETY CAMPAIGN GROUP

Transport Scotland has responded to a letter sent by TCC in which they have acknowledged the issues we are facing. They have committed to putting the following measures in place and to carrying out a further review of the situation in early 2026.

- Pedestrian activated electronic signs situated upstream of the Murroes Junction – sensors and signage batteries will be repaired and upgraded for both directions.
- Tealing finger post signage will be reinstalled in the central reservation opposite the junction.
- Amey will remove all self-seeded trees within the trunk road boundary at Murroes and Tealing junctions to improve visibility, with additional tree removal and branch cutting on the northbound verge where feasible.
- Safety barrier improvements are planned at Newbigging, Petterden and Todhills.
- Worn signs will be replaced where needed.
- Tactile paving to be added at pedestrian crossing areas.

Transport Scotland also advised that there are currently no plans to reduce the speed limit on the A90 link section from Fintry to A928 Petterden junction.

BOOK SHED SPRUCED UP!

Big thanks to local volunteer Gerry Hocking who gave the book shed a fresh coat of preservative over the summer – it's now looking ship shape and ready to face the winter weather!

SCHOOL NEWS

Primary 4-7

Part of our term topic has been exploring what it's like to live in Tealing. The children discussed the pros and cons and reviewed results from the 'Outside the Box' surveys alongside their own suggestions. The class was set a design brief to reimagine Tealing with global goal 11 - Sustainable Cities and Communities in mind, focusing on making it inclusive, safe, resilient, and sustainable.

To spark their creativity, we watched a TED Talk called "How Kids Could Help Design Cities." After planning, building, and refining their models, the children have created their vision of Tealing. Their ideas are nothing short of brilliant! Who knew letting kids design communities could be such a great idea?

Primary 1-4

In Primary 1-4, we have been looking at 'Our Community' as our topic this term. As a class, we decided to create our own community island called Isle of Tealing. We have taken some inspiration from the book and television program 'Katie Morag'. We looked at the Isle of Struay and made a comparison to our community. This is what the children have come up with for their island! Doesn't it look great!

FOND FAREWELL

There was a big turnout of family, friends and villagers at the hall on 6 August to celebrate the life of well-known Tealing resident Anne Bell who sadly passed away on 13 July after a long illness. Everyone wore bright colours at the family's request and there was laughter amidst the tears as the celebrant told stories of Anne's exuberance and passion over the years for her family, friends, live music, walking and travel. Our thoughts are with Anne's family and Angie, who organised such a wonderful, upbeat tribute to her mum.
